WHAT YOU SEE IS WHAT YOU GET

Have you ever caught yourself doing or saying something exactly like your parents? Perhaps it was a certain tone or some physical gesture. It may be a common phrase or some subconscious facial expression. Children often vow never to be like their parents, but somehow there are these small, unintentional behaviors that trickle through. When we catch them, we either smile with reminiscence or with humorous disgust.

It is interesting that human behavior mimics that which it sees. This is not only restricted to parents and family members. Those obsessed with particular cultural icons find themselves moving, acting, speaking, and doing things like that person. In fact, it is not only for cultural icons, but we subconsciously copy everyone around us. This is the basis for fashion, trends, shifts in language, media, music, art—the list goes on.

When it comes to Christianity, however, are there tones, gestures, words, actions, and characteristics that we should mimic? In this lesson, we establish that becoming a disciple is not only about thinking or doing things differently, but it is a change of identity. And when we are associated with the Lord Jesus as His disciples, our behavior, values, and character—all things—start to change from the mere action of seeing Him.

The Goal of Discipleship

Share insights from this week’s memory verse and Bible study as well as any discoveries, observations, and questions with your Sabbath School class (or Bible study group). Consider these discussion questions with the rest of the group.

1. Does your life imitate more the life of Christ or the life of someone else?
2. What three areas of Christ’s character and behavior are most profound to you? Are there any areas of dissonance?
3. How do the common religious definitions of discipleship differ from the biblical definition of discipleship?
4. In which areas do you need Christ to train you?
5. In which areas does your local church need Christ to train you?
6. How come some disciples don’t seem to grow, deny self, love others, and win souls?
7. How can more balance between in-reach and outreach be achieved?
8. What eclipses the real goal of Christian discipleship?
